Re: Co-op for Web designer and developer at Company name

Dear HR Manager,

I would like to express my interest in a Web designer and developer position in your company. I found your job posting on the Career website.

I believe I have the creative mind, problem-solving skills, and determination to make me a suitable candidate for this position. Joining your organization will enable me to put my theoretical knowledge to use and learn practical skills as we go further into the future.

I have practical knowledge in the development of e-commerce websites using html5, JavaScript, CSS3, MySQL, jQuery, WordPress, and PHP. While at Seneca College, I have been well versed in web design, graphics design, Ux design, motion design with many software skills, including illustrator, photoshop, InDesign, UX, After Effect and Figma. This experience has taught me that this combination of skills helps me establish a strong relationship with all departments and makes me compliant to work in teams.

As a web developer focused on customer satisfaction, I accommodate all aspects of web development: concepts as well as requirement definition, including designing, development, launch, maintenance, and user support. I enjoy working with clients to closely understand them to achieve that by working in teams to produce high-quality output.

I am looking forward to talking more about my qualification in person. Thanks for your consideration.

Your sincerely,

Ayushi
